Details

Panasonic 24 Hour Ventilation and Exhaust Fan with Run-on Timer

Improve indoor air quality and help manage excess moisture with the Panasonic FV-24JA4 ceiling-mounted exhaust fan. Delivering up to 220m³/h airflow, it is designed for effective bathroom ventilation while maintaining quiet, consistent performance.

With a 24-hour ventilation mode and built-in 15-minute run-on timer, the fan can continue ventilating after the room is no longer in use, helping clear lingering moisture and maintain a fresher indoor environment.

Key features:

Up to 220m³/h airflow for effective ventilation

24-hour ventilation mode for continuous air circulation

Built-in 15-minute run-on timer continues ventilation after use

Intelligent airflow technology automatically responds to changes in air pressure to help maintain consistent air volume

Noise-dampening double chamber design for quieter operation

Designed to help remove excess moisture and reduce conditions that can contribute to mould

Discreet ceiling-mounted design

3-year parts and labour warranty

Continuous ventilation

The 24-hour ventilation function allows the fan to maintain regular air circulation throughout the day, making it particularly suited to bathrooms and other areas where moisture can build up.

When the room is in use, the fan provides increased ventilation to help remove humid air. Once switched off, the 15-minute run-on timer keeps the fan operating to help clear residual moisture before automatically switching off.

Intelligent airflow control

Panasonic's intelligent airflow technology responds to changes in air pressure within the ventilation system, helping maintain consistent airflow even when installation conditions create additional resistance.

Want automatic operation?

For added convenience, the Panasonic FV-24JR4 Sensor Model includes an intelligent motion sensor that automatically activates the exhaust fan when you enter the room and switches it off after you leave.
