Details

The Apolo is a GX53 track spotlight designed to deliver wide, even light distribution in a compact form. Finished in white, the fitting combines a broad GX53 light source with the flexibility of adjustable track lighting. The spotlight features tilt up to 90° and rotation up to 350°, allowing light to be directed where it is needed. Designed for use with 110 mm GX53 globes, the fitting provides a wide beam spread that works well for general illumination across larger areas. Ideal for track lighting installations in living spaces, kitchens or retail-style environments, the Apolo small track spot offers a clean minimalist design with practical directional lighting.
