Details

The Croft pendant combines a broad metal shade with natural travertine detailing for a contemporary take on a classic pendant form. Available in beige with natural travertine or textured black with silver travertine, each finish highlights the unique colour and character of the stone. The gently curved shade directs light downwards, making Croft well suited above kitchen islands, dining tables or as a feature in living spaces. A travertine accent above the shade adds a considered material detail while keeping the overall silhouette simple and versatile. Croft offers solid natural stone in an accessible design that works across modern and earthy interiors. Pair with a decorative ES globe to complete the look.
