

Frida 1 Light Gypsum Table Lamp in Clay

SKU: 276061

Details

The Frida 1 light table lamp is a stunning and modern lighting option that boasts a unique sculptural design. This lamp stands at 670mm in height with a diameter of 300mm.
The primary material used to craft this lamp is gypsum, a mineral that has been used in construction and interior design for centuries due to its durability, versatility, and unique aesthetic. The use of gypsum in interior design has become increasingly popular in recent years, with designers and architects using it to create textured walls, modern sculptures, and unique lighting fixtures.
The lamp is available in two colourways: white and clay, both of which are neutral tones that blend seamlessly into any interior decor. The natural shade of the lamp ensures that the light is soft and warm, making it perfect for use on side tables, desks, or as a feature piece in your living room.
The Frida 1 light table lamp showcases the beauty and versatility of gypsum in creating modern and unique lighting fixtures that add a touch of sophistication and elegance to any space.
