Brix lends it self to a modernist, yet bold setting –with it's clean lines and sleek detailing. The white model features a controlled light leak from the seals, providing a beautiful, softened detail. The simplicity of their design, paired with Matte finishes, make the Brix range ideal for both indoor and outdoor applications. The Brix GU10 wall bracket is IP65 rated & suitable for coastal applications with it's salt protected paint finish. Want to make this a smart light?
